HOBSONSBAY CITY COUNCIL

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Welcome to the first edition of Hobsons Bay Community News for 2024.

It's been a busy summer with exciting events across the city, including Summer Sounds and Movies by the Bay, the Midsumma Westside Festival, launching the Experience Hobsons Bay bus tour, and celebrating the opening of the new Altona Pier.

There are still plenty of events to come this summer, view page 12 for details.

We loved receiving your best summer pics as part of the photography competition. The images highlighted how popular our beaches, lakes and parks are during the warmer months. You can view the winning photo on page 4 and the shortlist on our website.

In January, I had the honour of announcing Lorraine Harrison as the 2024 Citizen of the Year. The Young Citizen of the Year was jointly awarded to three incredible winners – Ada Goldenberg, Emmaline Soliman, and Emily Vella. Read all about these inspiring members of our community on pages 6 and 7. Thank you as well to our outgoing Citizens of the Year Nasz Khan and Mia Boonen.

The Make it Happen grants are open for 2024. Community groups, clubs and organisations can apply for funding for equipment and resources, events and festivals, and community projects. Read about last year's successful grants on page 3 and how you can apply.

Lastly, come down and visit me for a chat about any local issues in one of our community spaces on a Saturday morning. To view the times and locations, view page 12.

ART TRAIL

Have you noticed common themes in public art around Hobsons Bay?

Our public art collection is strongly linked to our maritime history, heritage, natural environment, industry and lifestyle.

You can find our public art collection along the bike trails and coastal trails, near shopping centres and in reserves.

And some you don't need to look for and may regularly come across! The artwork Fire Within is located on the Kororoit Creek off-ramp on the Princes Freeway and was created by the late Adrian Mauriks in 2011.

Fire Within is a series of 23 off-white forms that reference the organic living and breathing nature of things.

The artwork represents the natural beauty and the ongoing development and change of the western region.

Others that you need to seek out are Industrial Flowers by Akira Takizawa at Newport Park and Spirits of Time and Place by Geoffrey Ricardo in Altona North along the Kororoit Creek Trail.

TRICKY PAPER ITEMS: ARE THEY RECYCLABLE?

We've heard from you that recycling right is very important to our community but there can be confusion about what goes in which bin. So let's tackle some of those items that can trip us up when trying to recycle properly.

Paper is one of the trickiest items because while most paper is recyclable there are some paper-based items that are not.

Unfortunately, even though paper towels and tissues are made of paper, they are too soft or dirty to be recycled. Put these in your general rubbish bin.

Learn more with the 'which bin' search tool on our free Recycling 2.0 phone app

MORE SERVICES NEEDED FOR YOUTH MENTAL HEALTH

Feedback from our recent youth mental health campaign showed young people in Hobsons Bay had difficulty finding mental health support.

During the campaign from July to August, 150 pieces of feedback were received.

- 80 per cent said mental health support for young people is critically important.
- Respondents believe there needs to be more free or low-cost mental health services in the west, and that wait times are too long.
- Respondents said more specialty services are needed – including youth, trauma, eating disorders and drug or alcohol – and that there are not enough practitioners to meet the demand.

If you or someone you know needs support, call Lifeline 13 11 14.

What next?

We're working with the federal and state governments to seek funding for specialised youth mental health services in the inner west as a matter of urgency.

MEET OUR 2024 CITIZEN AND YOUNG CITIZENS OF THE YEAR

Ada Goldenberg, Lorraine Harrison, Emmaline Soliman and Emily Vella.

YOUNG CITIZENS OF THE YEAR

A huge congratulations to Ada Goldenberg, Emmaline Soliman and Emily Vella who have been jointly awarded the 2024 Hobsons Bay Young Citizen of the Year!

The three friends from St Mary's Primary School in Williamstown developed an idea for an app that tells you which public litter bin to put your rubbish in.

The app idea encourages users to take a photo of their litter to find out which of the coloured bins it should go in and then receive reward points which can be redeemed through local businesses.

Ada, Emmaline and Emily created the idea as part of an annual STEM competition run by the Tech Girls Movement Foundation.

The competition involved identifying and solving a problem in the community by developing an app idea.

Their idea was recognised as aligning with the UN sustainable development goals and the girls were the only Victorian finalists and won the United Nations award as part of the competition.

According to Emmaline's mum Merna, the young leaders are passionate about being litter free.

"The girls are continuing to brainstorm ideas of how to make a significant change and impact to others through volunteering, information type sessions and role modelling this behaviour," she said.

The three students had the chance to present their idea to Councillor Tony Briffa in November last year, where they discussed the challenges and potential solutions to litter across our community.

They will also meet with the Mayor, Councillor Matt Tyler.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Congratulations Lorraine Harrison for being awarded the 2024 Hobsons Bay Citizen of the Year!

The annual award celebrates unsung heroes in the community and Lorraine is a shining example of compassion, kindness and goodwill.

The award recognises her invaluable contributions to Hobsons Bay over a number of years and her passion for supporting vulnerable community members.

Lorraine has held many leadership roles in Hobsons Bay. She is currently the convenor of West Over-40s Lesbians' Group and co-convenor of the local branch of ABC Friends.

She was the president of Friends of Newport Lakes for 10 years (2007 to 2018) and is still active in the group coordinating the monthly working bees.

Lorraine is a strong advocate for survivors of elder abuse and was a Court Network volunteer at the Melbourne Magistrates Court during COVID. As a Court Network volunteer, she supported a diverse range of court users using her natural empathy, nonjudgmental manner, cultural sensitivity and positivity.

Lorraine is also a volunteer with the State Emergency Service, is part of the National Ageing Research Institute's community advisory group and a mentor for older women seeking paid work with Council on the Ageing.

BUILDING A BETTER CITY

NEW-LOOK PIER STREET

Pier Street in Altona, between Queen Street and Blyth Street, is now a more fun and interactive community space. There are lounges and chairs to sit back and relax. Connecting the old with the new, you can marvel at local photographer Russell Cassar's photo of the old Altona Pier. For the little ones, there is a new play kitchen and plenty of space to run and play.

The outdoor space revamp was launched in December 2023 and is the result of consultation in August last year about what the community wanted to see from the site in the future.

That survey showed support for extending footpaths for outdoor dining and increasing the community space.

Consultation and design work for long-term plans for the Pier Street feature site will begin this year.

LET'S PLAY TENNIS

All six courts have been partially resurfaced at the Liston Tennis Club in Nelson Place, Williamstown. As part of the project, the floodlights have also been upgraded.

The work was completed following a tennis needs assessment, which recommended a range of short-, medium- and long-term priorities.

The Liston Tennis Club was established in 1926 and is next to Commonwealth Reserve with a view over the bay towards Melbourne's skyline.

Interested in tennis but not a member? There are several free public access tennis courts in Hobsons Bay. Use our website to find out more and book, visit hobsonsbay.vic.gov.au/book-a-court

LOVE LAVERTON PARKS

The final two community park upgrades as part of Love Laverton Parks through the Better Places Laverton initiative are nearly finished!

Bruce Street Reserve, a small local park close to Curlew Community Park, has been upgraded and is now open with a new play space, seating, planting, and a path.

Cropley Crescent Reserve, which is in the northern part of Laverton near Henderson and Bladin Street Reserves, will have a new playground with an inclusive carousel, places to sit, and an open, grassed area for kickabout and exercise. The project is scheduled to be completed in March.

The Love Laverton Parks project focused on creating a unique feel to each of Laverton's parks and adding greenery and biodiversity to the suburb through planting trees and garden beds.

HABITAT GARDENS

Have you ever wanted your garden to attract birds, butterflies and bees?

Indigenous plants can help. They increase local biodiversity, provide habitat and food for local wildlife, and require less watering, fertilisers and pesticides.

Plus, local plants have already adapted to climatic conditions.

Growing indigenous plants is one of the steps to creating a habitat garden.

Habitat gardens can also help wildlife safely cross our suburban landscape.

Check out our website for a huge range of resources to help you create your own habitat garden, including videos and tip sheets, hobsonsbay.vic.gov.au/habitatgardens

NATIVE NATURE STRIPS

You can transform your nature strip into a habitat garden by planting native species. To make it easier, we recommend plants and designs on our website. Designs to choose from include grass and wildflower meadow, low maintenance and super-minimal.

INDIGENOUS PLANTS IN INDUSTRIAL AREAS

We've expanded our habitat gardens program to industrial areas. Industrial areas make up one third of Hobsons Bay and can be contributors to biodiversity corridors. All Hobsons Bay businesses in industrial areas are invited to apply.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Volunteers are the backbone of our community. In this edition, we meet members of Friends of Williamstown and Newport Library.

The group meets monthly and runs the book stall on the second Saturday of the month outside the Williamstown Library on Ferguson Street from 9.30am to 12.30pm.

Books, CDs and DVDs are low cost with novels priced from $2 and children's books from 50 cents.

Friends group member, Eva, says the money raised from the book sales goes back to the community.

"Over the last two years, we donated $5000 to the library to improve access to the heritage resources at Williamstown Library, $1500 to FoodBank, $1000 to Williamstown Literary Festival and $226 to NSW Flood Relief," she said.

Fellow member Diana has been volunteering for years and loves the sense of community the group brings.

"Some of the members have been volunteering for over 30 years. We always have a laugh setting up and running the book stall, and we get to know the familiar faces and regular customers," said Diana.

The group welcomes new volunteers.

"It's perfect for people who are newly retired as there is not a lot of time commitment and it's not a high-pressured volunteer position," said Eva.

LIBRARIES + COUNCIL NEWS

Alan Young and Bronwen Gray

Q&A WITH LOCAL AUTHORS

We chat with local authors Alan Young and Bronwen Gray about their book Pier Street Pearls.

Q. What is Pier Street Pearls about?

A. It's a collection of stories that celebrate the history of Altona's main shopping strip – Pier Street. The book is 250 pages and covers the first building in Pier Street through to today's mix of cafes, shops and apartments.

Q. What inspired you to delve into the history of Pier Street for the book and exhibition Pier Street Pearls?

A. We had been living overseas and when we came back, we noticed an enormous change in Altona from housing stock, the community, and just generally in Pier Street. We discovered a huge appetite for people to want to talk about and remember Pier Street across all generations.

Q. Can you share a memorable story or discovery that stands out from your research?

A. What stood out to us was the willingness of the participants to welcome strangers into their homes and share their lives. It's been an absolute pleasure getting to know these people and feel connected to their lives. Some people sent us little homemade gifts and cards after the exhibition opened to say thank you for honouring their parents or sometimes grandparents' life stories.

Q. How did the community's involvement shape the narrative of the book and exhibition?

A. We deliberately worked with the community to ensure they felt included and valued across all stages of the process. If you shared your story with us, we took it back to you so that you could approve the edit. If someone spoke about another person, we took that quote to them for comment, and removed them if they did not think it fairly represented their family.

Q. Where can I read Pier Street Pearls?

A. You can borrow it from the library or buy a copy at Louis Joel Arts and Community Centre or by emailing pierstreetpearls@gmail.com

Council proudly supported the Pearl Street Pearls exhibition through the Make it Happen grants program.

GETTING READY FOR KINDER

We have many terrific early years programs to get your little one ready for kindergarten. Playgroups and occasional care are great for familiarising children with following routines, socialising and self-regulation.

STORYTIME, PLAY-DOH, AND OUTDOOR PLAY AT OCCASIONAL CARE

Occasional care is for children from six months to school age at the Altona Meadows Community Centre from 8.45am to 12.45pm on Thursday and Friday mornings during the school term.

Occasional care educator Ghada has been working as an educator and playgroup facilitator at Council for over 13 years.

She describes the centre as like a family and loves getting to know the parents and kids.

“The kids love the outdoor and indoor play areas, especially the sandpit,” she said.

“If you love kids, like I do, it’s the greatest job in the world.”

To find out more, visit hobsonsbay.vic.gov.au/occasionalcare

PLAYGROUPS

Playgroups are great for meeting other parents in your local community and playing with your child. A list of community playgroups is available on our website. We also run supported playgroups led by specially trained and qualified playgroup leaders.

NEW GRANDPARENTS GROUP

Grandparents and their grandkids are invited to join us at one of our free grandparent playgroups. The groups run on Mondays, 9.30am to 11.30am, at Newport Baptist Church, with new groups to follow in 2024 at other locations.

Anne regularly brings her grandson Oscar to the Newport grandparents group.

“It gets him out of the house so he can spend time with other kids and it’s nice for me to have time with other older people,” Anne said.

NEW CENTRE IN BROOKLYN

We’re excited to expand our programs to the recently revamped Brooklyn Community Hall.

Concept plan for Altona North Childcare Centre

EXPANDING OUR KINDERS

From last year, three- and four-year-old kindergarten is free at participating services, thanks to the Victorian Government investing $14 billion in funding for every child to have two years of kinder.

To meet the demand, we’ve expanded and redeveloped kindergartens in Altona North, Seaholme and Spotswood to create 119 additional places.

- Altona North Children’s Centre has been expanded to include a new room in the south building and an existing room has been extended.
- Emma McLean Kindergarten and Daycare in Spotswood has been redeveloped with a new three-room modular kindergarten.
- Seaholme Kindergarten has a new two-room modular kindergarten and upgraded outdoor play area.

The completed projects are thanks to a partnership with the Victorian Government.
